

KEELEY BUMFORD

Artist • Producer • Songwriter • Composer

Keeley Bumford intends to make a statement with her career, and not just through her recordings. Born on a remote Washington state mountain range, trained at Berklee College of Music and currently based in Los Angeles, Bumford is a multi-faceted artist, who bolsters femme representation in music at every turn. Her resume grows longer each year; as Dresage, she creates lush synth and orchestral musings, allowing herself the freedom to inhabit many genres, from trip-hop to indie art pop. Clash Magazine calls her “pop from an alternate universe driven by a commitment to personal communication...honest, creative and forever outside the box.” Her collaboration with Jai Wolf on the hit single “Better Apart” (4.8m Spotify Streams) led her to perform in front of crowds at Austin City Limits and the Shrine Auditorium in LA for 2 sold out nights. She is also half of the boisterous electro pop group, More Giraffes who have garnered millions of streams and various licenses for Netflix films & Trailers. She was recently featured in the popular Youtube series “4 Producers 1 Sample” with Andrew Huang, which currently has half a million views and has brought in collaborations with Ableton and XLN Audio to name a few.

Bumford’s momentum continues to build, having signed with Primary Wave Publishing. Her extensive sync music placements include four Uniqlo commercials, spots for Apple, Windex, Secret Deodorant, the Baywatch movie (Paramount), Riverdale on The CW, A Wrinkle in Time trailer (Disney), Station 19 (ABC), and Nintendo. As a producer, Keeley’s credits include: MILCK "This Land is Your Land" from Motherland (Freeform) released on Atlantic Records, More Giraffes "Bermuda" (EP 2019 - All Points Music), Dresage (Self Titled) EP (2018) and Dresage x G.Smith "Therapy" (single 2019). As a writer, Keeley has cuts with Illenium, Melvv, Jai Wolf, Elephante, Big Gigantic and more. Recently, she wrote, produced and performed five original songs and co-scored the original Hulu/Blumhouse film, My Valentine, from the popular “Into The Dark” anthology series, released February 2020.
