My passion for music runs deep and is connected to everything I have done, professionally and personally. From the discipline and commitment required when learning an instrument, to my organisational skills in putting on a showcase and helping run a music event & festival, I embrace all opportunities and face any challenges with a strong mindset. The common thread of my life so far has been music, and I want to continue making progress in this field.

I'm open to learning about every aspect of the music industry, and I bring professionalism and a great attitude to every job I do!
